WE CAN STILL DEFEAT ASSISTED SUICIDE Committee stage of Kim Leadbeater's assisted suicide Bill finished last week. As you may have read in media reports, there are serious concerns with how her committee has conducted its scrutiny, with many saying that the Bill is now weaker than it was before. You can keep up to date with the progress of the Bill in the news section at: <https://righttolife.org.uk/news>. Summary of Assisted Dying Bill Meeting, Brighthouse – 27th March 2025 (with thanks to Frank who attended) - On Wednesday, 27 March, our local MP, Josh Fenton-Glynn, hosted a public meeting at Brighthouse Sports Club to discuss the proposed Assisted Dying Bill. This was the second in a series of events aimed at fostering informed and respectful dialogue on this sensitive issue. The meeting was well-attended by individuals representing diverse views and personal experiences related to end-of-life care.

Expert Panel:

The panel brought together professionals with wide-ranging expertise in ethics, healthcare, palliative care, and theology:

- Dr. Laura Green, Senior Lecturer in Nursing, University of Manchester
- Dr. Andrew Stanners, Ethicist and Physician
- Dr. Peter Barber, Humanist and retired Anaesthetist
- Reverend Hilary Barber, Halifax Minster
- Dr. Rachel Shield, Palliative Care Consultant, Overgate Hospice

Each panellist offered thoughtful contributions on both the specifics of the Assisted Dying Bill and the broader context of palliative care in the UK. Their insights helped frame the conversation around ethical concerns, medical practice, the importance of compassionate care, and the safeguarding of the most vulnerable.

Reflections and Key Points:

- Open Discussion on Death: A recurring theme from both panel and audience was the importance of bringing conversations about death and dying out of silence. Families and medical professionals must be encouraged to engage in open, ongoing dialogue well before any end-of-life decisions are considered.
- Safeguarding the Vulnerable: Strong emphasis was placed on ensuring that any legislation includes robust safeguards to protect vulnerable individuals, particularly those who might feel pressured or neglected in their care. This concern was notably echoed by Josh Fenton-Glynn himself.
- Cross-Disciplinary Engagement: The inclusion of perspectives from medical, ethical, religious, and humanist fields was widely appreciated. It reinforced the value of interdisciplinary dialogue in addressing moral and practical complexities.
- Respectful Debate: The meeting was a testament to the community's ability to discuss controversial and emotional topics with mutual respect. As Josh Fenton-Glynn observed, the tone of the meeting showed that common ground can often be found even amidst disagreement.
- MP's Commitment to Listening: Mr. Fenton-Glynn has assured constituents that he will carefully review the documentation from the Committee Stage, which concluded this week. His decision on the bill will be shaped by expert advice and the heartfelt stories and concerns shared at these public events.

"My primary concern will be the safeguards in the bill for the most vulnerable and how workable I think it is." – Josh Fenton-Glynn, MP

Final Thoughts: This event served as an important moment of communal reflection and respectful engagement. We commend those from our own parish and others who attended and contributed. May we continue to uphold the dignity of life. Take action now and visit www.righttolife.org.uk/ASBillAction to write to your MP
